

Welcome

to the fifth ArtBeat Festival.

We have a full programme again this year. We have some old favourites returning, and there are plenty of new events.

We have reintroduced craft workshops; brass band music and vintage games are new this year; plus there's a great variety of music, comedy, poetry, film drama, dance, literature, science and philosophy. There are events for families and for people curious about the different faiths in Clarendon Park.

There is something for everyone!

All the ArtBeat events are FREE (except some affiliated ones), so it will cost you nothing to try something new, meet new people and perhaps surprise yourself.

Hope to see you there.

Volunteer for ARTBEAT 2019

We all live, work, play or worship in Clarendon Park, and ArtBeat is the result of the contributions made by the people, venues and local businesses in our area.

All events are set up and run by volunteers: if you would like to put on your own event next year or help out in any way then please come to our public meeting/AGM

Acknowledgements

We'd like to thank everyone taking part, as volunteers, organisers, audience, performers or speakers: you have all given your time for free. The venues have also been generous to us, some providing their facilities for free or a nominal amount.

Thanks to Pricebusters, who have sponsored our "Meet the Neighbours" event again.

And we are very grateful to Castle Ward (Leicester City Council) for their significant contribution and support, without which there would be no ArtBeat.

Don't forget – enjoy yourselves!
